April 11, 2018 - Improving Care Through Personhood Tools for Clinical Care in Long-Term Care Homes with Behavioural Supports Ontario (BSO)

Personalized profile forms, or ‘personhood tools’, provide long-term care home residents with the opportunity to better collaborate with staff on the shaping of their care plans, environment and everyday lives.

Join Sharon Osvald and Katelynn Viau from Behavioural Supports Ontario (BSO) as they share ‘Recommendations to Enhance the use of Personhood tools to Improve Person-Centred Care Delivery in Long-Term Care’.

This session will specifically focus on residents living with dementia, complex mental health and other conditions that may result in a decreased ability to clearly communicate their needs. A question and answer session will follow the presentation and links to tools and resources will be posted.

The Spring Edition of OARC’s Seasons is Now Available!

This edition of Seasons celebrates life in long-term care homes with featured stories from residents across Ontario. OARC project work with Osteoporosis Ontario has culminated in Residents’ Council education and a tool to help residents talk and learn about Osteoporosis. Through Our Eyes: Bringing the Residents' Bill of Rights Alive – Showcased at Walk with Me Conference

OARC attended Walk with Me in Niagara Falls in early March. Josie-Lee and Dee Lender met with like-minded people from across Canada and a few from the USA, to share the good work of culture change in seniors' care. OARC's Through Our Eyes: Bringing the Residents' Bill of Rights Alive informational video was showcased during a panel presentation with LTC leaders giving evidence to the powerful results possible when residents are engaged in the creation of meaningful education. 2018 Election Forum – Advancing Senior Care in Ontario

April 23, 2018
10:00am to 12:30pm
Ontario Institute for Studies in Education
252 Bloor Street West, Toronto

Ontario's senior's population is growing at an unprecedented rate, yet our health and social services are not prepared to meet the needs of this critical demographic change. The upcoming Provincial Election is an important opportunity to bring attention to this issue so that it is a top priority for all political parties. As organizations representing seniors and providers of care and services across the continuum, we invite you to join us for this special election forum.

André Picard, Globe and Mail health reporter, will host a discussion with invited representatives from the Liberal, Progressive Conservative, New Democrat, and Green parties on their plans for addressing the future care and service needs of Ontario's seniors.

There is no charge to attend, but you must register before April 16 at seniorforum2018.squarespace.com. You are welcome to include suggested questions for party representatives with your registration.

Please feel free to extend this invitation to others who may be interested. We hope you can join us!

Ontario Long Term Care Association's This is Long Term Care 2018

November 14-16, 2018

Westin Harbour Castle, Toronto

Call for Abstracts - The Ontario Long Term Care Association's signature conference, "This is Long Term Care 2018: Disrupting the Norm", profiles new and emerging research, innovation, and successful quality initiatives in a unique forum designed for learning, networking and information sharing. This year we are issuing a challenge to presenters to think out-of-the-box and challenge the status quo. In so many ways, our industry is headed for a shake-up. From our changing demographics and capacity challenges to keeping pace with the evolving needs of residents and families. As leaders, we must disrupt the norm and lead with a positive change in the sector.

Call for Content close date is Friday, April 20, 2018, at 12:00 noon. To review application criteria or to apply, click here.
